Reflection

As Matt is ordained as a Deacon in the Church of England in a special (if socially distanced!) service at the Cathedral, you will forgive me for quoting at length from the Church of England service for the Ordination of Deacons, words that Bishop James will say to the candidates.

In some senses, this is Matt's To-Do List – and also his To-Be List! I hope you will agree with me that these are lovely and inspiring words.

"Deacons are called to work with the Bishop and the priests with whom they serve as heralds of Christ's kingdom. They are to proclaim the gospel in word and deed, as agents of God's purposes of love. They are to serve the community in which they are set, bringing to the Church the needs and hopes of all the people. They are to work with their fellow members in searching out the poor and weak, the sick and lonely and those who are oppressed and powerless, reaching into the forgotten corners of the world that the love of God may be made visible. Deacons share in the pastoral ministry of the Church and in leading God's people in worship. They preach the word and bring the needs of the world before the Church in intercession. They accompany those searching for faith and bring them to baptism. They assist in administering the sacraments; they distribute communion and minister to the sick and housebound. Deacons are to seek nourishment from the Scriptures; they are to study them with God's people that the whole Church may be equipped to live out the gospel in the world. They are to be faithful in prayer, expectant and watchful for the signs of God's presence, as he reveals his kingdom among us."

In our epistle reading today, we read about the need for God's people to act with humility, and to have that same willingness to serve that we see in the self-emptying (kenosis) of Jesus in his incarnation. In our gospel reading the words concern authority, and obedience. All these are reflected in the deacon's role, the role to which Matt has been called by God. We wish him well, as he seeks to follow that calling. Reverend Ren

Prayers

Lord, help us to work together for the common good with those we live amongst. As we find ourselves walking alongside those who hear a different drummer and walk to a different beat, help us to adjust our pace to theirs, so that we may become synchronised to walk in step. If we find others who delight in leadership for its own sake, let us press on towards our common goal. If the way seems a struggle, and obstacles never-ending, we pray for your strength to continue upwards along the road. (from layanglicana.org)

Lord of all worlds, look in love upon your people. Pour the healing of your compassion on a world that is wounded. Send us out in search of the lost, to comfort the afflicted, to bind up the broken and to free those trapped under the rubble of their fallen dreams. (based on a prayer by Sheila Cassidy)

The start of the new school year begins in a new way for children and this can bring about mixed emotions. This week we have a lovely printable that can be copied or printed to add to children's lunchboxes to remind them of not only our love but God's love and strength in these times.
